6 For free is an informal phrase used to mean "without cost or payment." These professionals were giving their time for free. The phrase is correct; you should not use it where you are supposed to only use a formal sentence, but that doesn't make a phrase not correct.

If so, my analysis amounts to a rule in search of actual usage—a prescription rather than a description. In any event, the impressive rise of "free of" against "free from" over the past 100 years suggests that the English-speaking world has become more receptive to using "free of" in place of "free from" during that period.

My company gives out free promotional items with the company name on it. Is this stuff called company swag or schwag? It seems that both come up as common usages—Google searching indicates that the

The fact that it was well-established long before OP's 2021s movies is attested by this sentence in the Transactions of the Annual Meeting from the South Carolina Bar Association, 2021 And to-day, "free white and twenty-one," that slang phrase, is no longer broad enough to include the voters in this country.

Items given away free, typically for promotional purposes, to people attending an event, using a service, etc. It's especially common in reference to, e.g., the very nice "swag bags" of gifts received by movie stars visiting various marketing venues during Oscar season so it comes with some cachet.

Following the last reasoning, wouldn't it be so that "at" , instead of "in" the weekend, is the Britishly recognized usage because it refers to an specific time in the week? Also, considering American reasoning, "on" is a reference to the fact that one would be considering a connection to the whole of time as in "during" the weekend?

I got a bit mixed up just now regarding the difference between "complimentary" and "complementary". My colleagues were arguing about the correct spelling of "complimentary drink" at a nightclub ev...

7 The phrase feel free has a fairly neutral to positive tone, as in Feel free to do whatever you would like. But do bear in mind that almost any phrase can be negative when delivered with a good dose of sarcastic tone.

The choice of prepositions depends upon the temporal context in which you're speaking. "On ~ afternoon" implies that the afternoon is a single point in time; thus, that temporal context would take the entire afternoon as one of several different afternoons, or in other words, one would use "on" when speaking within the context of an entire week. "In ~ afternoon" suggests that the afternoon is ...

Love the game but... by jenny2021 on 2021/02/26 21:28 I have been playing this game for a while now and I have come up with a few things that need to be changed. For one, how many times can you run out of troops? You can go through a whole hour without seeing any troops on your screen and then suddenly you will lose all of them! It really needs to be fixed cause it's so frustrating especially when you are in the middle of a battle! Another thing is that after 15 spins, the counter stops at 3 and if you don't spin again it stays there forever until you do spin again. It's too difficult to get enough coins for 15 spins and when that happens it makes me really upset because there are a lot of things I want to buy but I don't have the coins for them. It's just REALLY annoying. If someone was able to fix this, then it would be great!",

"Best game ever! I love that you can play with friends anywhere, even when not connected to the internet. This game is so worth playing because of the different levels and how easily it takes all my free time. It would be cool if there were different games you could play with friends online and offline. Also, I would be better off if you could actually get coins without spending your real money on them through in-app purchases or by downloading another game that requires real money." Too many ads by Rachael Bajo on 2021/04/12 16:31 This game is very fun and I will have to admit that the game play is very well executed, but the amount of ads is way too much and you guys are not helping the problem at all. The ads do not get removed from your screen and you have to close them out just to use your items or do something. They also sometimes pop up when I don't want them to like before I open a shop. It is very annoying because you can't even go back without closing it out which ruins my plan every time. Another thing is that you have to wait for so long. You have to wait hours to even complete something. I know this is supposed to be some kind of strategy game but all it really does is frustrate the players because they can't even move forward because they had a bad streak of luck.",
