The app has also been accused of being culturally appropriative due to its overwhelmingly white user base, but as of 2021, it has a growing Asian userbase as well. However, many Asian people on twitter are criticizing Tiktok saying that the app is racist because the only Asian people on tiktok are usually just Korean people or people who post content in Korean &/or criticize Korea and Kpop (even though they know they won't understand korean). They say that the app is racist because they only feature korean or chinese people but never other Asian ethnicities like Japanese, Thai, Vietnamese etc.",

On December 11, 2021, TikTok launched a new update that would enable users to mask their faces on video. The full name of the mask is called "TikTok face mask". The company said that it would take this feature global in 2021.",

In May 2021, the company announced an automated streaming service that will allow users to record their videos on a TikTok account and share them on other social media channels such as Twitter or Instagram. The company also released a new in-built feature that allows users to choose whether or not their video will be public. In June 2021, the app was reported to have begun selling sponsored content and songs via its new feature called "Advertise" which can be purchased with in-game currency bought with real money. It has also been reported that this feature is available for all users who own a TikTok account, whether they have actually purchased any music with real money or not. In October 2021, it was reported that the app had begun adding new features which would allow users to make money from their short videos. These additional features include live streaming, selling sponsored content and content creation options such as photo filters and stickers. Similarly to the feature in Vietnam, after recording a song, users have the option to make it public for followers to see or private for just them to. The feature has been compared with accounts like Dubsmash that allow users to upload videos of them lip-syncing other songs while making money from ad revenue.",

On December 19, 2021, TikTok introduced a feature called "Profile Verification" in India. The feature was made to allow users to verify their identity on the app by sending their government-issued identification card number to TikTok. The company announced that the feature would show up as an option in the parental control settings of people who had verified their identities. The feature was only available for people aged 18 and over and did not verify names or email addresses. In addition, the company said it would not use the information for any other purpose other than verifying age on the platform. In an interview with NDTV, Jigar Shah, CEO and founder of TikTok said that they had not created profiles in other countries and that verification was only meant to stop people from registering without giving any information. On August 2, 2021, TikTok stopped offering the feature stating "We have received feedback from a majority of our users who do not wish to share their ID card numbers. We will continue to develop other features that can match identities using information such as phone number or email address." The company said it would continue to consider adding the feature in the future with new technology.", In August 2021, it was reported that the app would be launching a new feature called Live.ly which is described as a live-streaming platform like Periscope or Facebook Live designed for musical performers and another feature called Amplify that will let artists easily make money from their short videos. The company had previously attempted to launch its own live-streaming platform on its musical.ly app but the service was never officially released due to issues with app stores, namely Apple's App Store which refused to permit any live-streaming applications upon its launch.",

In June 2021, musical.ly partnered with Chinese media giant ByteDance which led to the development of the app under its new name, TikTok. The app was launched in China in August 2021 under this new name and was immediately popular within the country. It was ranked as the most downloaded non-game app the day it debuted and by the next day had gained 5 million downloads on both Android and iOS platforms. The company confirmed to TechCrunch in November 2021 that over 50 million users were using the app every day while a "Forbes" article from January 2021 stated that TikTok had over 200 million users in China alone which accounted for approximately 90% of its total user base at that time.", TikTok has been compared to other social media and video sharing apps such as Instagram and Snapchat. In fact, the app features a similar way of operation to Snapchat in that users can create videos that contain different drawings, stickers, text, emojis, filters and then share them with their followers.", Another article published on Huffington Post reported that "The app's terms of service make clear that users are responsible for their own content and may be sued for copyright infringement. As TechCrunch notes, this is similar to YouTube's terms of service. It also warns users not to share personal information like credit card numbers or bank account details. However, the reporting section makes it unclear whether the app will take down content that could be illegal, or if users trying to report abusive content will be able to do so.""
