ROBLOX has also been compared to popular game Minecraft. In many ways, they are similar; both games have been developed by one company (Tencent) and are usually sold on the same platform (Windows, OS X, iOS, Android). Another close similarity is that they both have their own in-game currency system. However, Minecraft has a different style of gameplay relating to platforming; while ROBLOX players build and destroy using building blocks, Minecraft players explore a world.

The game's worlds are different from most games on Roblox, because they are not based around themes. This makes the game easier to navigate when learning how the world works, and also allows for more creativity in the types of things that can be made. ROBLOX has also been criticised for being very difficult to use and has many bugs within the site interface itself, problems which seem to go unresolved by the development team despite repeated complaints over a number of years. Although the website's interface is not difficult to use, it has become more complex over the years with features such as video editing with a dedicated program and large amounts of unnecessary superfluous features. Some of the features include: UIs for uploading and viewing custom models, importing music, applications, and sounds; importing sounds from WAV files; creating galleries; creating art sheets; creating an unlimited amount of variations for models by changing their scale and pose; adding animations to models (e.g. walking); creating global themes which change every time you go into a game or lobby; creating global music tracks in . But though I am young, I thought that Minecraft was always meant for little kids; unlike Roblox, it wasn't purchased by me or my parents, and there were no advertisements present. So my opinion on both games is that they are really great for little kids because they're safe and easy to use. For adults, they are not worth the time. But from what I have heard, and from my own experiences, Roblox is a game that all kindergartners should be playing. It's definitely not recommended for adults or even teenagers.

We are supposed to have it in our classroom but we only used it for homework so far. The thing that I don't like about this game is that some one really has to tell you what to do. They don't run the servers themselves so they often change things and cut off some features. It's also expensive, but I think it's worth the money.
