I am not a Minecraft addict, but I do enjoy playing that game. However, that is only because my friends and I play it together. Not because of the millions of dollars or diamonds you can get for free on Roblox. People are obsessed with Roblox; my

Facebook account was filled with friends who played Minecraft as if they were addicted to crack. They would constantly post pictures about their new lifesize cardboard builds they worked on at home; taking ages-long breaks between each video to watch more videos of minecraft. We've all had friends who were that addicted to Roblox in our time, but I have never met one like Sinead who was "deeply miserable" because she was deprived of playing it. That was always the case whenever anyone mentioned it, I'm sure; parents would frequently ask me if and how I managed to get my grades, and teachers would always ask me if we had any homework. Sometimes they'd even assign us essays to write about our time on Roblox; even though a few months before everyone stopped doing them unless they were mandatory.

The game is not very challenging. Even though there are a lot of games available on it, there isn't much in the way of difficulty. This is a big negative in my opinion - especially for older kids who love to face tough challenges such as some video games on the market now which can sometimes be really difficult and where you have to wait for many hours in order to even pass the game. This might be a problem if you are playing with smaller children - some games on roblox are known to last for days or weeks before they finish. My 6 year old absolutely loves roblox and games like this are great for that age group. If you're looking to play with kids older than that then I'd suggest looking at something else. There is some violence in the game, but nothing major (for example you can only fight by swinging a sword or shooting a gun, rather than hand to hand fighting) and it's all in the context of a game. Overall we love it and it was worth the money!

Please be cautious and do not enter any codes you have found in a comment on Youtube, on Reddit, or anywhere else. Always make sure to read the comments of the videos and follow all instructions before using them.

There are also people who scam other players by selling items with prices they can't get for items that aren't worth much at all when you try to sell them. I once had someone scam me because of that. They told me their account was hacked and that they could fix it for me if I give them one of my item. So I gave them one and they scammed me. Another problem is when people are posting comments and other players comment back at them about it. There is a lot of spamming going on, but the worst part is there is a lot of inappropriate content that is being made like adult themes, swearing, and inappropriate skins.

These fake accounts had the same username and picture as the original account owner but had no friends. The real account owner would notice that their account was missing and look at the fake profile's profile. This could have been used to raise their reputation and potentially, make them more money.
